

New Driving Park Will Combine Many Features

Be Completely Equipped for Racing and Provide Club House, Tennis Courts, Bridge Path, With Plenty of Rooms for Winter Sports.

A visit to the new riding and driving park at the foot of Manor avenue which is rapidly being completed by the owners Parker K. Brinler, Dr. Buel W. Mahen and Judge William D. Brinler, will convince anyone that the owners have selected an ideal place for their park. The park is located at the end of Manor avenue on the former Carter farm, a tract of 93 acres which is a combination of level meadows, rolling fields, wooded slopes and groves and also a sandy beach on the Esopus creek which may be used for bathing purposes. It is this ideal park which the riding and driving club now forming here intends to lease from the owners and take possession of as soon as the large barns are completed on the grounds. Work will be started on the barns in a very few days and will be completed in time for use early this fall.

Soil Makes Ideal Track.

The idea of a riding and driving park on the site was first talked over by the three owners of the tract. They entered into an agreement and purchased the property and immediately began work on a half mile driving track. The ideal location of the park and the good fortune to have material at hand for the surface of the track hastened its completion. Inside the track it was found there was an earth substance which contained just the right amount of clay to make an ideal driving track and the condition of the track today gives evidence of the excellent quality of the material at hand. Racing men who have viewed the track since its completion state that the track is now one of the best tracks for racing in the state of New York. Following heavy rains the track can not be considered heavy and it is quick to drain and dry, a feature which is appreciated by all horsemen.

New Club to Lease Property.

Not only is the track completed but considerable other work has been done on the grounds. Those interested in the new riding and driving club are very enthusiastic over the prospects of the forming of a club to take over this park. The entire tract will be taken over by a lease from the owners and will be controlled by the membership of the club which will not be limited to any section or location. Memberships at $10 a year will be solicited from anyone who desires to become a member and the membership dues will admit the members to gate entrance for all events at the park as well as use of the attractions which the new club proposes to install. The membership will not be limited to men but the women folks of the section are also invited to become members. One of the houses on the premises will be converted into a clubhouse with a 16 foot veranda. For those who desire a gallop on the polo field which will be constructed inside the track, there will be shower baths and toilets under the grandstand which will also house concession booths. In fact, the park will be complete in every detail.

Big Grandstand Planned.

The track has been completed and the judges' stand built. Just across the track from the judges' stand will be erected a grandstand with a seating capacity of 2,000. The stand will be 200 feet long designed after the Saratoga track stand which is 20 feet in length. The stand will be set back 40 feet from the track so as to allow everyone in the stand an unobstructed view of the entire track which is entirely clear of buildings. The inside of the track will be used as a polo field and a horse show ring. In the winter time this field will be used and used for ice skating and winter sports. Back from the track a slope which may be used for riding and tobogganing.

Plenty of Parking Space.

At the entrance to the grounds will be erected the entrance gate and the entrance there will be a fine back of the grand stand and the main and stable near the back end of the track. A rear exit is also provided opening on a line at the rear. The track has been so constructed as to allow parking cars all around the outside of the track and at the rear of the proposed grandstand will be parking space for hundreds of cars. Ample space has also been allowed for cars to leave the grounds without congestion.

Buildings to be Erected.

A barn with 30 box stalls will next be erected at the upper end of the track beyond the grand stand. This will be a barn designed for a racing team and will be equipped for taking care of the horses during racing season at the park.

In the west of the track is located the present barn which will probably be turned as a riding school by the new owners and where saddle horses will be kept for hire by the members. Near the barn is also located the office of the club as well as an office for the owners and a house which will be occupied by the caretaker of the grounds.

Other Substantial Improvements.

From the club house there is an unobstructed view to the west over the Esopus and across the creek to the Dutchman's Kill. The present owners intend the creek bank for a drive.

Had 252 Stations With One Tube Set

Girl Artist, With Spine Paralyzed, Continued to Red 17 Years, Radio Station Over Radio, Awarded Special Prize by Radio World's Fair.

New York, Sept. 14.—Another soul-stirring story of radio has reached the Radio World's Fair, opening tonight in the 25th Field Artillery Armory, New York city, and announcement was made today by U. J. Herrmann, managing director, of the award of a special prize, a five tube radio receiver, to Miss Jeanie R. Miller, 139 West Seneca street, Oswego, N. Y., who with a one tube receiver has heard 252 stations, including KFI, Los Angeles, and is certain that in last year's international tests she heard SNO, Newcastle, England, which was reported by several thousand American listeners, and also received KZKZ, Manila—real records. Her log includes KTCL, Seattle, KFAC, Pullman, Wash., KMO, Tacoma, KGW, Portland, and other stations at very long distances.

Here is her story in part:

"I am just an invalid girl, being confined to my bed with spine trouble for 17 years, not being able to use my lower limbs, but God has been very good to me and has gifted me in many ways to use my hands and eyes. I spent most of the days painting pictures, for I have been gifted with drawing and painting everything I see from the time I was old enough to hold a pencil, and like most to draw and paint pretty girls' heads, and can paint anyone's picture who will pose for me.

"My doctor gave me a fine little radio set in January, 1924, and I have learned to be an expert radio operator. My set is on a table alongside of my bed, and not being able to sleep good nights, listen in to broadcasting stations until the wee small hours of the morning, and have had an experience that most fans do not have time for.

"I have a one tube set built by two boys in this city and in March 1925, tuned in to Station KFI, Los Angeles, at 12:05 a. m. and listened to part of an opera and have set the dials in the same place many times since and received programs from that station. In April I tuned in to PWX, Havana, and enjoyed the band music which was played for some time and have received this station many times since.

"My fingers and ears are very sensitive—and can you find anyone with such a record? Do you blame me for being a little proud of my one tube set? There are many powerful eight tube sets in our city that have not had the long distance stations I have had.

"Have many letters from stations and artists in return for letters I have written them and these I keep as treasures. One that I prize very much is a letter from General Pershing signed in his own handwriting and another from Maude Morgan, the harpist, after hearing her golden jubilee broadcast from WEAF in November, 1924.

"No one will ever know what it has meant to me after being shut away from the world for 17 long years and then have the whole world, one might say, brought to my bedside, and I am so grateful to the broadcasting stations and artists that have made life worth living for me, words cannot express it.

"Radio is a blessing to shut-ins and we will never know how much good it is doing in this world.

Miss Miller will be asked to paint the picture of Reba Jane Frew, "Miss Radio, 1925-6."

tance of about three-quarters of a mile. Along the creek which takes a deep bend at this point will be built a bridge path for use of the members of the riding and driving club. The path will be built so as to wind in and about the creek and woods, making an hour's ride for the circuit. The sand beach is also located back of the club house. Along the creek back of the club house is the grove of big timber which will make an ideal place for campfires, picnics and outings with a sandy stretch nearby for athletic events.

On the lowlands at the rear, are three large level fields which may be used for many purposes, including the landing of aeroplanes.

Tennis courts will later be erected for the use of members and if the membership desires there is also ample grounds for a golf course.

To Launch Membership Drive.

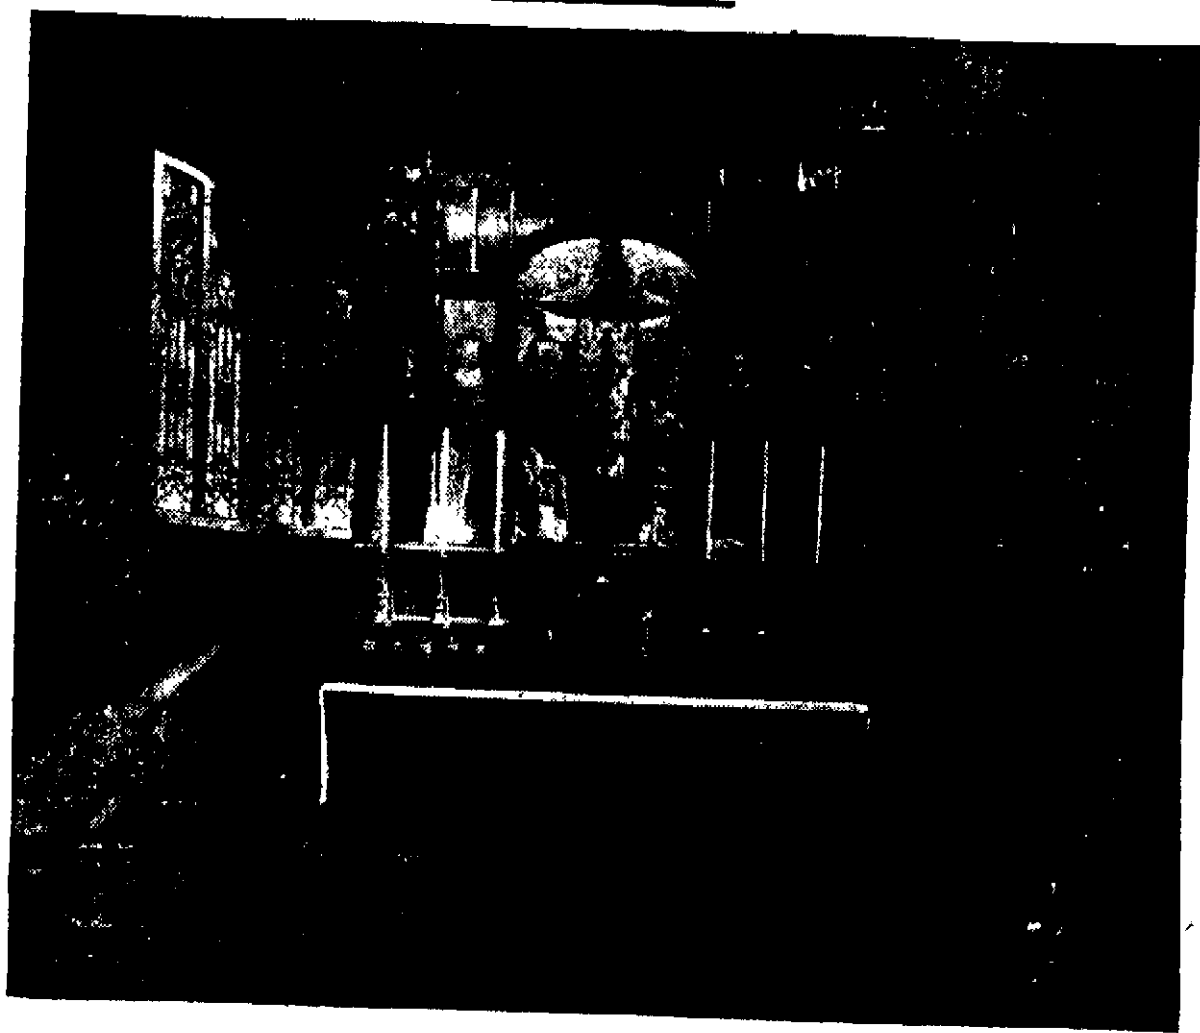

The temporary officers of the riding and driving club invite the women folks of the city to become members and to participate in the activities of the club when organized. Already several women have pledged memberships to the club. Mrs. B. W. Mahen being the first woman to request membership in the club.

The riding and driving club is now being organized and will later be incorporated. A drive will be opened Tuesday evening for 1,000 members at $10 a membership and although no one has been asked to subscribe to memberships at present, over 400 have volunteered and pledged membership.

A meeting will be held Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock at the Chamber of Commerce rooms on Broadway at which time the campaign for membership will be launched. George Whitaker is chairman of the membership committee and will at that time appoint his assistants to help in the drive.

Notable Altar Consecrated At Holy Cross Church

Impressive Ceremony Attends Consecration of Edith VanWagenen Memorial by Bishop Lloyd—Service Largely Attended—Sermon by Noted Preacher—Other Memorials Blessed—New Altar Magnificent Work of Art.

Today the Rt. Rev. Arthur Selden Lloyd, D. D., Suffragan Bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of New York, consecrated with full ceremonial the new high altar and triptych in memory of the late Edith Ellison VanWagenen placed in the Church of the Holy Cross. The service was at 10 o'clock, and was largely attended by parishioners, the host of friends of the late Mrs. VanWagenen and practically all of the Episcopal clergy in the Hudson valley. The Rev. Father F. C. Powell, S.S.J.E., of Boston, Mass., a noted preacher both in England and America, delivered the sermon, taking as his subject the Exaltation of the Cross in the Life of the Individual. It was a learned and deeply moving discourse.

The service opened with an impressive procession of the bishop, clergy and altar boys, which entered the church as the splendid choir in the west gallery sang the ancient consecration hymn, "Angularis Fundamentum." The procession was rich in color: the altar boys in red cassocks with white collars, all of the clergy wearing copes, while the bishop was vested in cope and mitre, and attended by deacons of honor and his chaplain. The consecration of the altar was immediately performed by the bishop and his assistants, the tradition psalm connected with such an occasion being sung during the washing of it. At the conclusion of the consecration, during the singing of Urbs Beata Jerusalem, the altar was vested and the solemn high Mass was celebrated by the rector, the Rev. Gregory Mabry, with his assistants of the Mass, the bishop pontificating from his throne. The setting for the Mass used the choir was John E. West's festival setting in E flat. The music was of an unusually high order even for the excellent choir of Holy Cross.

Altar An Artistic Masterpiece.

The altar of the Church of the Holy Cross which was consecrated today is destined to take a place among the most beautiful and artistic altars in America. The design for this masterpiece was conceived by Angelo Luiddi, of the Angelo Luiddi Inc. Studios in Cambridge, Mass., under the advice of the Rev. Father F. C. Powell, S.S.J.E. The great bas-relief panels in the triptych, the figures, the tabernacle door, and the memorial panel under the altar were carved by Mr. Luiddi himself, who is declared to be by high authority the greatest of the wood-carvers of the last hundred years and a worthy successor to Grinling Gibbons. The rest of the carving was done in the studios of Mr. Luiddi. The painting of the panels and figures and the polychroming of the rest of the work was done by Central.

Subject of the Work.

The subject of the whole work was inspired by the feast of the title of the parish, the Exaltation of the Holy Cross. This feast is rich in teaching of the power of the Holy Cross in the lives of men through the Redemption wrought on it and it is productive of much edifying symbolism which beautifully emphasizes the sacrifice of the Mass as a continuation of the sacrifice on the cross. It impresses profoundly the fact that a Christian altar is the Christian's Calvary.

The Panel Scenes.

The great central panel of the triptych is carved in bas-relief, as are the two smaller side panels. This panel depicts Our Lord, gloriously reigning from the cross as Our King and Great High Priest. The figure is appropriately vested in the vestments of a priest, wearing the alb, amice and cincture, the vestments of the deacon and sub-deacon, the stole, maniple and chasuble of the priest. It is crowned, denoting His kingship. Attention is especially called to Our Lord's face. The figure rests against a bordered drapery of Pompeian red. The cross, from which He reigns, is elaborately carved and is in gold, the dove, symbolizing the Holy Spirit, rests over the head of the Christ, while a halo radiates from behind. To gain some adequate appreciation of the proportions of the altar, it is helpful to know that this central figure is alone eight feet in height. At the foot of the cross, on either side, are two decorative adoring angels, each holding symbols of the Passion: one, the three nails, the other the Crown of Thorns.

The artist has indulged in some interesting symbolism, which may escape the observer, unless his attention is called to it. On the border of the right sleeve is embrodered in Latin, "Jesus"; while on the left sleeve is the Latin for "John".

Modern Movement Symbolized.

The subject of the triptych being the Exaltation of the Holy Cross, it was thought an excellent opportunity to give the work added reality, and to bring it closer to our own times, by commemorating certain great movements in the Anglican Communion since the Reformation—movements which have, through tremendous sacrifices of life, lives and property, brought the Anglican Communion a long way back toward the realization and appreciation of its Catholic heritage and mission. Each movement, here commemorated, is represented by the figure of one of its leaders. Thus, in the middle niche on the left, is found the figure of Saint Charles, king and martyr, who sacrificed his crown, his line and his life for the preservation of the Catholic Episcopate. Without such a sacrifice on his part, the Anglican Church would have lost its valid orders. He was but one of thousands who either gave their lives or lost their property at the hands of Cromwell for the Catholic religion in England.

To the right, in the upper niche is a statue of the Rt. Rev. Samuel Seabury, who was chosen by the clergy of the church in Connecticut as their bishop and was sent to England to obtain consecration. This event being immediately after the Revolutionary War, Dr. Seabury was not hospitably received by either the ecclesiastical or civil authorities. In fact, persecution was so thoroughly practiced toward him that he finally became aware that the moribund Church in England had no intention of granting Episcopal Order to the weak and struggling Church in America. After great privation and expenditure of his own private fortune, he finally despaired of his mission in England and sought consecration at the hands of the non-juring bishops of the historical Church of Scotland. On returning to America, he thus became the first bishop of the Episcopal Church and the predecessor of the National Episcopate. He formed a Concordat with the Scottish bishops, in which he agreed to the Canon of Consecration, and certain other elements contained in the Prayer Book, which have given a liturgy superior to the English. If there be any doubts as to the intention of Bishop Seabury to establish a Catholic Church in America or of the Scottish bishops to consecrate a Catholic bishop, one has but to refer to the Concordat entered into by the first bishop of the Church in America and the Church in Scotland. It will be noted that the statue is crowned with a mitre. Bishop Seabury's own mitre is preserved at Trinity College, Hartford, Conn. The mitre on the figure is copied from it.

The Oxford Movement.

In the middle niche on the right is the figure of the Blessed Edward Severus Pusey, doctor and confessor. He represents what is commonly known as the Oxford Movement. Through the Harrovian Canon, Pusey, the Church in England became a denomination. Services were a devotion. Services were a devotion.

Three Die When Train Hits Auto

By Telegraph to The Freeman. Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 14.—The lives of three persons were snuffed out last night, when a fast Lehigh Valley railroad passenger train, en route to Buffalo, struck an automobile at North Tonawanda.

The dead: Percival Dunham, 27; his brother, Daniel Dunham, 50, and Michael Farmer, 43, all of No. 24 Felton street, North Tonawanda. James Hay, same address, driver and owner of the car, is in the DeGraff Memorial Hospital, North Tonawanda, suffering from serious injuries.

Crash Fatal to French Aviator

By Telegraph to The Freeman. Paris, Sept. 14.—The body of Robert Thierry, French aviator, who lost his life yesterday while attempting a non-stop flight from Paris to Bagdad, will be brought back to Paris with military honors.

Thierry, together with Dioudonne Cestes, left yesterday in an attempt to break the world's record for non-stop flight. They crashed some hours later in the Black Forest, Germany.

"Thierry and Cestes were lost in a thick fog and drizzle and fell in attempting a landing at Hollethal in the Black Forest," said Chief Engineer Wilhelm of the Broquet Company today. The physicians at St. Joseph's hospital in Freiburg confirm that Thierry was instantly killed, while Cestes is suffering only from slight injuries.

More Arrests in Mail Robberies

By Telegraph to The Freeman. Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 14.—Two more men are under arrest today in connection with the round up of the gigantic parcel post theft band accused of operating for three years or more at the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad terminal.

Their capture swelled the total number of men now held behind bars to ten and was said to have spelled completion of the round up of the original "ring" at which the federal government Saturday struck a smashing blow.

Post Office Inspector Charles E. Jennings of New York, in charge of the clean up of this band of railway mail porters accused of having stolen no less than $1,500,000 in mail since they began operations, announced the last two men nabbed were Jerome Rogers, twenty years old and Sebastian D. Giacomo, twenty. Rogers, according to Jennings, has served as leader of the band.

Night School to Start Wednesday

The night school which will be held at the Kingston High School, will open after the summer vacation Wednesday evening. Pupils desiring to register for the sessions must do so this evening or Tuesday evening.

CLINIC FOR BACKWARD SCHOOL CHILDREN

On Friday of this week a clinic for problem and backward children will be held at the Ulster County Building, 74 John street, Kingston, between the hours of 10 a. m. to 3 p. m. The physician, Dr. L. J. Palmer, from Nanapanoch, and Miss Mary M. Schultz, field agent from the State Commission for Mental Defectives, are both specialists with children who are having difficulty in doing school work; those who are irritable, quarrelsome, hard to manage, nervous or retarded. Those presenting children to this clinic are advised as to how the child can be benefited. All children should be accompanied by someone who can give the examiner a good history of the child's development and habits.

A NON-STOP BIBLE READING MARATHON

By Telegraph to The Freeman. Boston, Sept. 14.—A non-stop Bible reading marathon opened at the Seventh Day Adventists Temple today.

The Rev. Robert S. Fries began the reading with the first words of Genesis. When he became weary, another reader stepped to the desk and continued the reading without any intermission.

Pastor Fries had 24 members of the congregation to assist him in the non-stop Bible reading marathon. Probably the most novel method of reading with reading of the Bible than any church has ever undertaken.

The church, which will be opened day and night during the reading, was crowded at the start of the event.

Game at Athletic Field.

This evening the Colored Swatters and the Schilling Furniture Company team will clash at the Athletic Field. The game is called for 8 o'clock.

French Gain in Fierce Fighting

By Telegraph to The Freeman. Paris, Sept. 14.—Beating off force counter attacks on the western end of his line of attack, Marshal Petain has driven his French wedge far into Riffian territory and brought it to a momentary halt.

Portions of the French line now close enough to the territory of the Spanish so that Marshal Petain may seek Spanish permission before continuing his drive.

Bitter fighting is proceeding for the possession of Bab Hodne Heights. The French took this position only after the fiercest fighting, and the Rifians are making a desperate effort to regain it.

French forces have occupied Reina, about 12 kilometres north of the Quergu river, forming a spearhead which may separate the Jebas tribes territory from that of the Rif proper. Such a wedge would have important effect upon the morals of the Jebas, it is believed, and might result in their turning from Abd-el-Krim.

Spanish Garrison Liberated. Tetuan, Sept. 14.—The Spanish garrison at Kudia Tahat, which has been besieged by encircling Rifians for several days, has been liberated by Spanish attackers. The dedicated remnants of the garrison have marched back into Tetuan amid great enthusiasm from the population.

The tribesmen have been driven from the strategic point Beni Karick, after holding it for several days. Spanish forces are now in occupation there re-fortifying the position.

To Hold Barge Canal Hearings

John D. Schoonmaker Will Head the Kingston Delegation Before Commission Appointed by Governor Smith Who Will Hold Hearings on Wednesday and Thursday.

John D. Schoonmaker will head the Kingston delegation who will attend the hearings on the state barge canal at Albany on Wednesday and Thursday by the commission appointed by Governor Smith to study the canal situation.

At a conference held at Albany on September 10, called by the president of the Albany Chamber of Commerce and attended by representatives from Chamber of Commerce organizations in the Hudson river valley, Kingston was represented by a large delegation. At that meeting Mr. Schoonmaker was selected as chairman of the Kingston group to attend the hearings this week.

Mr. Schoonmaker expects to have several barge canal captains present at the hearing Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock to give testimony as to actual usage of the canal and their testimony is expected to be of value to the commission.

It is urged that a large number of Kingston citizens attend these hearings on Wednesday and Thursday as the development of the state barge canal is of utmost importance to the development of the Hudson river valley.

Lewis to Confer With Pinchot

By Telegraph to The Freeman. Stroudsburg, Pa., Sept. 14.—John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, left this city today for Milford, Pa., by motor, for a conference today with Governor Pinchot.

Lewis was asked last week by the Pennsylvania chief executive, to visit him for the purpose of acquainting the governor with the anthracite coal strike situation, and his visit at the governor's home, follows a visit by W. M. Inell, chairman of the anthracite operators' wage scale negotiating committee.

The miners' head arrived here after a trip from Philadelphia to Hazleton and other points in the coal region.

Tuesday Is Primary Day

Tuesday is Primary Day throughout New York state and only a persons enrolled in one of the three legally recognized parties, Republican, Democratic or Socialist, may vote. In Kingston and Ulster county the polls in each election district will open at 12 o'clock noon and remain open until 9 o'clock that evening. Every enrolled voter should make it a point to attend and vote at the primaries.

Active Electric Supply.

The large trucks of the Canfield Supply Company are unloading a carload of Standard electric cable and also a carload of electric conduit. They report the electric business very active this fall.

GAS BUGGIES—It's Much Easier Said Than Done.

THE ELEPHANT

"The heard that in schools," said the elephant, "it is not nice to have favorites, and I've heard that it wasn't nice when parents did it, either."

"But I think it is quite different in the zoo."

"What makes you think so?" asked another elephant.

"Because," said the first elephant, "it makes a difference whether the elephant is friendly with the keeper."

"Now I know the keeper loves me. I love the keeper. We're the best of friends. I do tricks for people who come to see him."

"I play games with him."

"I enjoy the food he gives me."

"I give him rides in turn."

"Well, I'm a pet of the keeper's, but that isn't unfair in my case."

"You haven't explained why," the other elephants said, as they shook their trunks.

"No, but I will," said the elephant.

"Good," the others said.

"In school," continued the elephant, "sometimes certain ones are petted just because they're those certain ones, and for no other reason than that, which is never fair."

"But to be a nice, friendly elephant and to love the keeper, and to have the keeper love me in turn; well, that isn't unfair."

"That is just as it should be."

"What do you think about it, Elephants?"

The others flapped their ears and waved their trunks, then one of them said:

"I agree with you. Now I do not feel badly because you are the keeper's pet."

"The keeper is just as good to me, say you and the keeper are more friendly."

"I am shy. I don't make friends easily. I don't care to make friends, because I haven't got that sort of a nature."

"So why shouldn't you be the keeper's pet when you want to be, and when you take to the keeper and he takes to you?"

"There is no reason at all why you shouldn't, and so I am mighty glad that you are, mighty glad."

The other elephants all waved their trunks in agreement.

"The keeper," continued the one who had been speaking for the others, "says you have the kindest heart in the world."

"I think so, too. We all do. My heart is kind enough, but I am not a sociable elephant, I'm not."

"But it makes all the difference because the keeper in having you as a pet is not unfair to us."

"That makes all the difference."

"You and he are simply particularly good friends and playmates."

"I am so glad," said the first elephant, "that we are good friends and playmates."

"It is also so nice to hear that none of you are jealous of my friendship with the keeper, but understand it so well, for it makes my see life so happy!"

And then he sent a signal to the keeper's society which was a society in which different animals of the zoo contributed verses about themselves.

They called them society because they made them up in the zoo and were about their zoo life.

This was the elephant's society:

I am a happy elephant,
I live up in the zoo.
The keeper loves me mightily,
And I adore him, too.
So wouldn't you be happy
If you were in my place,
And you were Mr. Elephant
Instead of being you?

HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY The Siege of Boston

by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD

The KITCHEN CABINET

(R. 1923, Western Newspaper Union.)

A busy, bonny, kindly place
In this rough world of ours,
For those who love and work apace
And fill their hands with flowers.

THINGS FOR THE TABLE

A delicious pie which may be made with other fruit but is especially good with currants is as follows: Bake the pastry shell and fill with the following mixture—crush one cupful of currants, add one cupful of sugar, the yolks of two eggs slightly beaten and mixed with half a cupful of cold water and two tablespoonsful of flour; cook until smooth, add a tablespoonful of butter and cool slightly before pouring into the baked shell. Cover with a meringue using the two egg whites and three tablespoonsful of sugar. Brown in a moderate oven and chill before serving.

Canfield String Beans.—Slice the beans and put to cook using a tablespoonful of butter for each pint of sliced beans, cook until well heated through, browning and stirring carefully while cooking. Add a little water and simmer for an hour, then add milk and a tablespoonful of flour to thicken and cook until the flour is well blended. Serve, seasoning with salt and pepper.

Stuffed Eggs.—For a supper dish or a hot night or for a luncheon dish, eggs are especially good. Cook in the shell and when cold remove the shells, cut into halves, remove the yolks, mash and season them with salt, cayenne, butter or cream, refill the halves and arrange on a deep platter. Set in the oven to heat while a white sauce is prepared, using one cupful of rich milk, two tablespoonsful each of butter and flour cooked together before the milk is added. Pour white hot over the eggs, sprinkle with finely minced green pepper or chives and serve hot.

Macaroni and Eggs.—Cook until tender one cupful of macaroni broken into inch pieces. Put a layer into a buttered baking dish, cover with a layer of hard cooked eggs, cut into halves, sprinkle with a little grated cheese, cover with a thick white sauce, repeat and top with buttered crumbs. Put into the oven and heat until thoroughly hot and the crumbs are well browned. Serve from the dish.

Ghost Bows in Mexico

One of the most interesting of recent discoveries in Mexico is that reported by prospecting miners, according to one of the engineers, who has reached Mexico City from the Sierra Madre range of mountains where the operations are being carried on, there have been discovered several human skeletons measuring from ten to twelve feet in length. They were all found in one cave, being quite intact. The average length of the feet was from 20 to 25 inches. The anthropological department of the Mexican government is planning to send a commission to investigate the discovery. The investigation is expected to clear up the origin of the wonderful legends of the state of Chihuahua. The skeletons were all found in a single position, shoulders bent forward and arms resting on upturned knees.

CURRENT OFFERINGS AT THE THEATERS

Another big first National feature picture with Milton Sills in the stellar role, has been engaged for three days at the Keeney Theater, starting today. The picture is "The Making of O'Malley," an adaptation of Gerald Beaumont's Red Book magazine story of the same title. It is Sills' first starring vehicle and is a vivid heart gripping story of a New York policeman and a society heiress, especially fitted for the starward dramatic vigor of the star-outstanding exponent of two listed roles. Supporting Sills is an excellent cast headed by Dorothy MacKail. Other special features include the Keeney News, the scenic, "The Land of Navagh" and the comedy, "Dangerous Curved," with a special musical program by Jimmie Connors and his melody makers.

Myrtle Harder Stock Company is here again for their annual visit to the Kingston Opera House, starting this afternoon. They have selected for their opening play the well known and popular book play, "Dangerous Curve," which served as a starring vehicle for Lewis Stone in pictures some two seasons ago. The repertoire for the remainder of the week includes "William A. Brady's 'Simon Called Peter,' a powerful love story, 'Cheating Husbands,' an up-to-date comedy drama, 'High Stakes,' a spicy story and a dazzling story for dramatic sight-seers, 'A. H. Wood's popular success, 'The Whole Town's Talking,' a twentieth century speed comedy, and as the closing play a thrilling drama of the big pine woods of the north, 'The Love Bandit.' Seats are now selling for the entire week at the box office.

At the Auditorium today William Fairbanks and Eva Novak in "The Battling Fool," a play of fast and snappy action, a romantic story and the thrills of dangerous situations and daring feats.

SEVERAL POLICE COURT CASES BEFORE COUGHLIN.

At the request of Mrs. Joseph B. bolts of No. 46 Jarrold street, who arrested her husband Saturday evening, he was allowed to depart from police court today with a suspended sentence of ninety days in the Albany Penitentiary hanging over his head. The boltz have five children and it was for that reason the wife did not want her husband sent away. She said he came home drunk Saturday night and beat her up. The fracas resulted in the police being called twice to the home in response to telephone requests. Coughlin Brill was arrested Saturday on complaint of A. Ray Penney, who stated he had stolen a hatchet from his home. This morning Judge Penney informed Judge Coughlin that he did not care to have him sent hardily with and at his request the judge imposed a thirty day sentence. In jail and suspended it provided that he keep away from people had had been annoying lately.

An Ambulance Call.
Mrs. Michael Scille was removed from her home on Delaware avenue to the Breckinridge Hospital in the ambulance on Sunday afternoon.

Grand Larceny and Burglary Charged

Town of Shandaken Burglaries May Be Explained by Arrest of Two
Pine Hill Men—Stolen Goods Discovered—One Man Confesses.

William Dalton and Eugene P. Burns of Pine Hill were committed to the county jail Saturday by Justice of the Peace W. H. Misner on a charge of burglary and grand larceny. About a week ago the general store of Beckman & Garrity at Shandaken was entered and a quantity of goods including silk hosiery, pajamas and about $14 in cash was taken. The State Troopers were notified of the robbery but were unable to get sufficient evidence to place the guilt. At the same time Clinton Johnston, who conducted a candy and soft drink place in the town of Shandaken, notified the town authorities that he had been called to the door late at night and attacked by three men. They used a blackjack on him and after beating him up robbed him. He was unable to tell who the men were but had gained a good look at them and was positive he could identify them.

Early Saturday morning men were seen in the candy and cigar store of H. R. Parsons at Pine Hill. They were noticed by several persons but no one thought of burglary as both men were electricians employed by the Pine Hill Electric Light Company and it was thought they were engaged in making some repairs. Later when it was observed that goods were being carried off, Deputy Sheriff Herbert Segelken of Phoenix was notified and he immediately made an investigation. He found goods amounting to between $200 and $300 missing.

Deputy Sheriff Segelken immediately notified Sergeant James Cunningham of the State Troopers, and a search warrant was secured for the premises of Burns, who is a married man. When the officers investigated they found in the garage of the Burns home a quantity of the goods missing from the Beckman & Garrity store.

A warrant was served on Dalton by the deputy and trooper, who concealed the fact that Burns had already been detected. Dalton became frightened and confessed Burns was then taken in custody with Dalton and brought to the court house where Burns later made a statement to the authorities. He told the authorities where more of the goods could be found and on Saturday the authorities recovered a majority of the stolen goods, including cigars, candy, cigarettes and other articles which had been taken from the Parsons store. Later Mr. Johnston was communicated with and came to the jail where he identified Burns as one of the men who had assaulted him a week ago.

Both men are well known throughout the village of Pine Hill where their arrest caused great surprise.

MORAN NIGHT SCHOOL OPENS TOMORROW

Announcement is made in the advertising columns of today's Freeman that night sessions of the Moran Business School, Burgevin building, corner Fair and Main streets, will be resumed tomorrow at seven o'clock. The office will open at 6.30 for the accommodation of those who have not yet completed arrangements for entering.

Many of the brightest young men and women of Kingston and vicinity attend these sessions. They find real enjoyment in increasing their ability to do the things that pay and that the business world demands. To those who cannot attend day sessions, the Moran Night School offers a safe and sure solution to their problem of getting ahead in life.

TERRIFIC STORM IN NEW HAMPSHIRE VILLAGE

By Telegram to the Freeman
Centre Harbor, N. H. Sept. 14—Half of the 400 inhabitants of this little village at the mouth of the White Mountain lake were displaced from their homes by a terrific storm which hit the village with wind of hurricane force.

The top story of the cedar mill of the Carroll, Curtis, Lord and Timber Company was blown off the home of Alfred Fairbridge was turned on its side. Half the house of Mr. Addie Thomas was blown off. Other homes were ruined, with roofs ripped off and chimneys down. In a path nearly a mile wide trees were leveled with the ground. Not a death or injury was reported.

Chappies Still One Game in Front of Locals

The Colonials were banking on ending the battle staged with Chappie Johnson's All Stars Saturday and looking up the series. But Chappie's ball players blasted the locals throughout the game and the Colonials were left with a double hit with a rival outfit who can reasonably contend that they have not experienced such a good day. Nevertheless when the Colonials parted company with Chappie Johnson's All Stars Sunday afternoon with a similar result there was an entirely diverse situation. The locals dropped the first of their twin contest in Chappie's trophy gallery Sunday afternoon. They gave this colored aggregation a series which they had been grimly fighting to garner.

However, when the locals gave up the first match by the score of 12 to 1 they virtually blasted all hopes of ending the series from Chappie. The colored outfit had already a 4 to 1 lead in the series prior to the day's games and after the two games Sunday the dusky warriors still held the series as the two will probably not meet again in season. The locals took the third game by the score of 4 to 1 and the match had been called at the end of the seventh on account of darkness.

First Game.
The first game was a parade of bludgeoning with all of them wounding trouble. It was a long and for the local twirlers as the Colonials pounded the Colonials bender for 19 base knocks. McDermott was detailed to have the first ten base connections which he gained in the first four and two innings of the affair after which he assumed the huge task. Although Clyde was met for three base hits and as many runs and was called out at the end of the seventh on work deserved nothing short of commendation for the markers he made were caused by unlucky hits. Art Smith finished the match and gave six safeties, which accounted for five markers.

On several occasions the Colonials of the game well in hand when they were promptly let it escape. In the sixth the locals were enjoying a run lead when a break reduced it to one. Russell struck the man out and his follower followed out via the Deegan-McDermott route. Smith followed with a knock to right field. Hobson followed. Ridgley hit in the same spot and then made an effort to put a second while Smith scored. Deegan's and Peter's system signals became mixed and neither in pursuit of Jack's peg. The runner rambling into field unattended and Hobson registered a walk. Brown received a walk and a second throw to the first sack and Ridgley scored the third run.

Only one run behind the Colonials staged a riot the following and scored four markers. The Colonials gained a four run lead in the opening frame which was also down in the second inning by Deegan's assaulting pitcher.

Many Deegan blamed his way to try in this game with a bird of a hand catch. Matty scored over right field after a fly from Ridgley. A catch which was also a halfbreath catch. After a thriller, Ridgley performed as difficult a catch of the type on one of Hobson's bolts.

Second Game.
At Smith twirled the second match in the local's hands by giving a state warriors only three hits. He started his match against a hit after three and two-thirds. Deegan had passed it was deemed to send Carter at the bat. Smith was having trouble in the pen. Carter allowed a run of the visitors' hits but during a run of four and two-thirds. The Colonials whiffed eight Colonials.

The Chappie outfit coined the marker when Smith hit to center and they parried a couple of hits, coming in on an out. The Colonials exhibited their prowess by losing the opening frame in the first frame. Peter's hammering a triple, scoring Deegan and McDermott. Brown and Kelly were captured at the bat. Peter's registered another hit in this session when Shields scored a run. Peter's scored a second run when Schwab's bunt pushed him across the plate. Peter's registered the final marker.

The Colonials whiffed eight Colonials.

The Chappie outfit coined the marker when Smith hit to center and they parried a couple of hits, coming in on an out. The Colonials exhibited their prowess by losing the opening frame in the first frame. Peter's hammering a triple, scoring Deegan and McDermott. Brown and Kelly were captured at the bat. Peter's registered another hit in this session when Shields scored a run. Peter's scored a second run when Schwab's bunt pushed him across the plate. Peter's registered the final marker.

Notable Altar Consecrated

formally, priests became persons, bishops rarely visited their dioceses, confirmation was in abeyance, the sacrament of penance was forgotten, the dying were withoutunction, and but rarely did a priest celebrate the Divine Mysteries, and offer the Bread of Life to the laity, a mere handful taking advantage of receiving at the rare celebration of the Holy Communion. Morals, of course, were at the lowest ebb, and Christian charity was drawing its last breath. This is the terrible but true picture of life and religion in England, when a gallant coterie of Oxford scholars began the Tractarian Movement, which revived the Anglican Communion. There were many strong and noble leaders in this movement, the fruits of which are being enjoyed today, but the Blessed Pusey has been chosen to represent this movement, because he assumed the leadership of it at its most difficult period, and suffered more humiliation. Dr. Pusey was one of the great scholars of Holy Scripture at all times, therefore, he is represented with the Bible in his hand. It is of interest that his own red cope, loaned by the Church of Saint John the Evangelist in Boston, Mass., could be had to copy from.

Since the devastation, and indeed annihilation, of the religious foundation in England by the wicked Henry VIII, with one single, but unsuccessful, attempt, the religious life had disappeared from the Anglican Communion until the Oxford Movement. This movement produced a priest of such deep spirituality, scholarship and missionary zeal, that he will ever be numbered among the great founders of Religious Orders, and all that that means. This man was Richard Meux Benson, Father of the Society of Saint John the Evangelist, commonly known as "Cowley." Besides establishing a great missionary preaching order, on whose work the sun never sets, he has been the strongest reformer of the lives of the Anglican clergy since the Reformation. For a period of sixty years Father Benson influenced the clergy, throughout the Anglican Communion. If the church were canonizing saints, the name of Father Benson would be among the first. In the statue, he is clothed in the habit which he gave to his followers; and he is represented as giving a rule of life by the book held in his hands. This statue is in the topmost niche on the left.

Statue of Mother Harriet.
In the lowest niche on the left will be found a statue of the Reverend Mother Harriet, foundress of the Community of Saint Mary. It was deemed appropriate to include Mother Harriet because she established the religious life among women in America, and because she founded hospitals and asylums for incurables and outcasts. The average Episcopalian has little or no knowledge of the tremendous work, or its extent, established by this great servant of God, and as carried on by the scores of devoted nuns who wear the Annunciation lily.

In Memory of Mrs. Van Wageningen.
In olden times it was customary to include among the figures in an altar-piece representations of the donor, or his family, or the person in whose memory it was given. Future generations will be greatly inspired by the statue of Edith Eilston Van Wageningen, in whose memory this work is offered to Almighty God. The statue is in the lowest right niche. Mrs. Van Wageningen's deep spirituality, splendid charity, burning missionary zeal, sacrifices for God, and faithfulness in her devotion to the church, make it proper that she should be numbered among those who have exalted the cross in their lives.

Symbols of The Passion.
The massive doors of the triptych, which are to be closed during Advent and Lent, are richly carved and colored in symbols of the Passion. The grape vine and the passion flower are profusely used, while four angels on each door bear symbols of the Passion. These symbols are, reading from left to right: The Flagellum, The Seamless Coat, The Pillar with Cord, The Spear, The Reed and Sponge, Saint Veronica's Veil, The Ladder and the Hammer. The doors are supported by massive, hand-wrought iron hinges.

The heavy base of the triptych contains carved panels and is bordered with an elaborately carved design in grapes.

In the gradines of the altar the motif of angels, bearing symbols of the Passion, is repeated. The symbols are, reading from left to right: The Passion Flower, The Sacred Wound, The Jar of Wheat, The Three Nails, The Cock, The I. H. S., The Pierced Heart, The Drops of Blood, The I. N. R. L. The Dice, The Crown of Thorns, The Branch of Grapes, The Placers and the Delirium.

Guarding the Tabernacle.
The tabernacle is guarded on either side by splendid statues of Saint Michael, the Archangel, and Saint Gabriel, the Archangel. On the tabernacle door are carved angels, supporting the chalice and Host, and the Latin inscription: "Ergo Agnus Dei Ecce tibi agnus dei." (Behold, the Lamb of God, which taketh away the sins of the world.)

Teaching Boys About the Farm

State School of Agriculture at Delhi, which opens October 6, covers wide range of practical instruction in Agricultural and Allied Subjects.

The State School of Agriculture at Delhi, Delaware county, has not had a resignation from its faculty in three years. Each instructor is a specialist in his line, having had Agricultural College training and practical farm experience. Better still, he is in direct touch with farm conditions and believes in farm life. The school begins October 6th.

Young men are given a practical farm business education and have the opportunity of specializing along certain farm lines. The school emphasizes not only the growing of better crops but gives special attention to the best methods of grading and selling farm products. A fine dairy herd consisting of Holsteins, Jerseys, Guernseys and Ayrshires are kept for profit and demonstration use at the school.

The large school poultry plant has figures to show that the poultry business pays. Special attention is given to incubation and brooding, the school having a mammoth hot water incubator. Tuition is free. The classroom and laboratories are furnished with modern, practical equipment. Gas engines, automobiles and radio are studied in the mechanics department. Board at the school does not exceed five dollars per week at the Students' Cooperative Boarding Club. Opportunities are given the students to earn part of their expenses by working. Loans can be made to deserving students.

For almost the first time since the war, experts in farm economics agree that the outlook for the farmer and the farmer's boy is brighter. Allowing for the carryover from last year a shortage of 14 per cent in the hay crop is reported. The potato acreage and crops indicate good prices. The large corn crop of the middle west points toward cheaper feed. The people of Europe have more money with which to buy. Farms may now be bought at bargains. This is a good time to prepare for farm life in the future.

PROGRESS OF NEW HIGHWAY CONSTRUCTION
The following bulletin shows the highway construction accomplished during the week ending September 11:

Number of contracts under way	172
Number of pavements being laid	81
Number of men employed by contractors	7,371
Square yards of pavement completed during week	230,002
Square yards of pavement completed during season	3,347,293
Maintenance force employed by the state	5,300

The above yardage represents 22,03 miles of completed pavement for the week and a total of 412,95 miles for the season.

Tagging Major League Bases
Dazzy Vance reached the pinnacle with a no-hit game against the Phillies. Johnston's error on Hawk's fly robbed him of the shutout, but the Dodgers won, 10 to 1. Vance has pitched 16 hitless innings, his appearance being a one hit game against the Phillies last Tuesday. Grimes was knocked off the mound and the Dodgers lost the second game of the double bill, 7 to 3.

The Senators and Athletics all-battered through eleven innings to a deadlock, 6 to 6.

The Pirates dropped two to the Cardinals and reduced their own lead over the Giants to six games. Peter Donahue had the Cubs eating from his hand, the Reds winning 5 to 2.

The Tigers' ninth inning rally, scoring three runs, was to no avail when the Indians scored two more in the tenth and won, 4 to 3.

Willie Kamm's single in the ninth scored the run the White Sox needed to beat the Browns, 4 to 3.

Wingfield had the Yankees on the hip and again they lost a one run decision to the Red Sox, 2 to 1.

Apple Drop Bigger Than Last Year

Commercial Apple-Growing Sections Will Pack 75 Per Cent "A" Grade — Grapes Above Average — Peach Crop Smaller.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Albany, Sept. 14.—Most of the fruit in New York state has improved with the advance of the season until it is of exceptionally high quality at the present time, according to the September state and Federal crop report issued from the New York State Department of Farms and Markets. The New York apple crop is slightly greater this year than a year ago, 24,135,000 bushels compared with 23,500,000 bushels. Most of the apples are in what are known as the commercial apple-growing sections. In these sections it is estimated that about 75 per cent of the fruit will pack "A" grade compared with 46 per cent last year. Severe fungous and insect injuries are the exception this year although some scab and side-worm injury have been noted where spraying has not been sufficient. Hail damage has been severe in certain localities, notably in Yates, Ontario, Seneca and Ulster counties. New York's most important winter apple, the Baldwin, is showing up the best, with fair crops of King and McIntosh but rather light crops of Rhode Island Greenings and most of the other winter varieties. On account of the large size and good quality of the fruit in the commercial sections, the commercial crop is estimated at 4,509,000 barrels compared with 3,738,000 barrels harvested in 1923. The total United States crop will be about 162,138,000 bushels compared with 179,101,000 bushels in 1923, but the commercial crop will be greater 30,334,000 barrels compared with 28,587,000 barrels in 1923.

Canada Prohibits Exports.
The August estimate of the commercial apple crop of Canada, is 2,536,852 barrels compared with 2,749,544 barrels in 1923. Less than a 50 per cent crop is reported for continental Europe. Due to the extreme shortage orders have been issued prohibiting the exportation of fruit from some of the most important exporting districts.

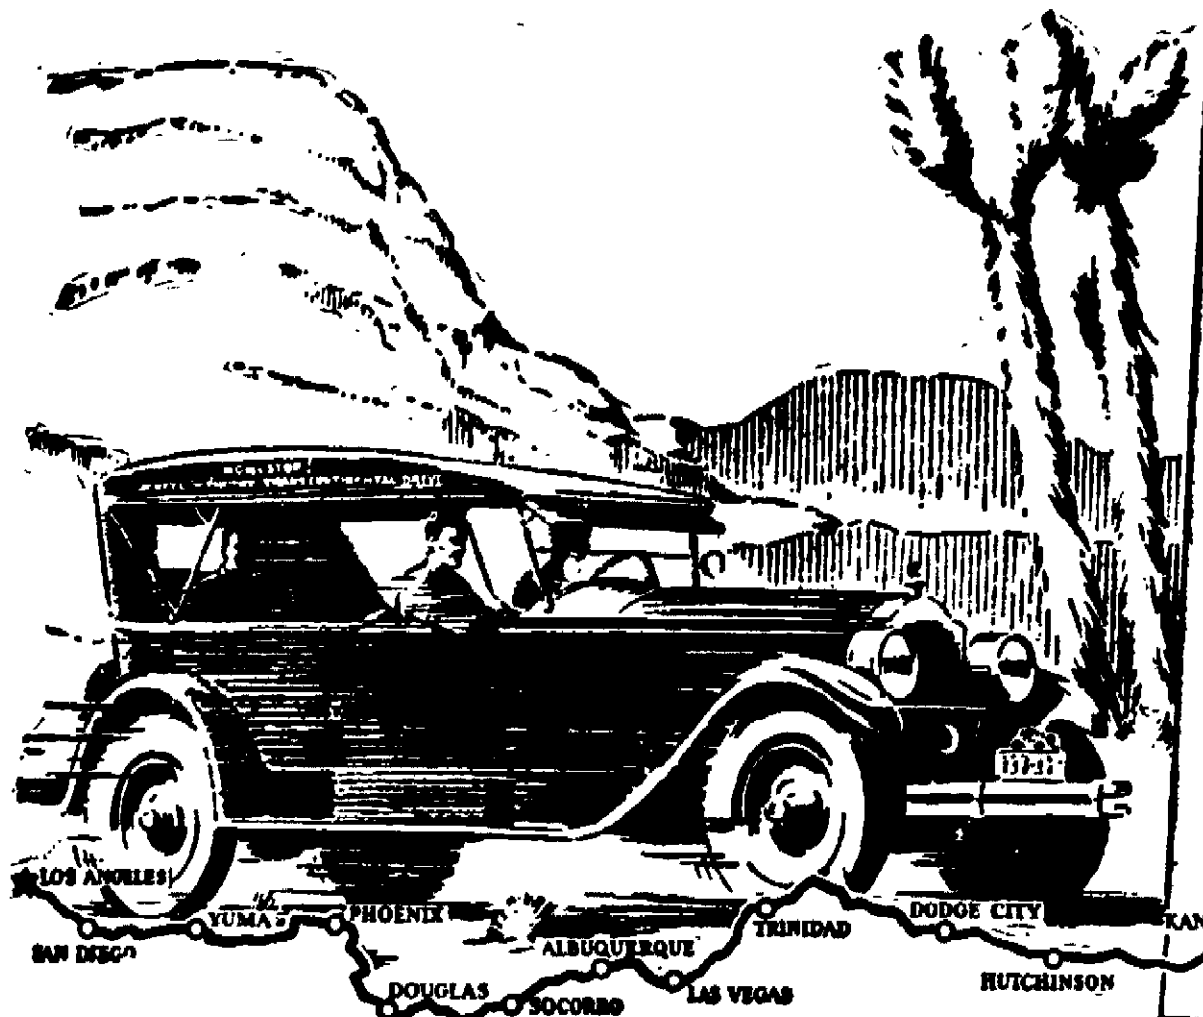

Pear Crops Improves.
The pear crop in New York has continued to improve throughout the season. The fruit harvested has been exceptionally fair and large which has increased the earlier estimates of the crop. New York now has the promise of a crop of 2,404,000 bushels compared with 2,100,000 in 1923. Michigan's crop will be about 491,000 bushels compared with 810,000 in 1923. In the United States it is estimated that there will be a total crop of about 18,012,000 bushels compared with 17,669,000 bushels last year.

Peach Crop Smaller.
The New York peach crop will be slightly less than last year's crop, 1,520,000 bushels compared with 2,174,000, although the fruit is of better quality to date and being considerably earlier than a year ago, should furnish a crop of much better quality at the end of the season. Michigan promises a crop of 544,000 bushels compared with 464,000 bushels last year and the total United States crop is estimated to be 47,674,000 bushels compared with 53,127,000 a year ago.

Grapes Above Average.
New York state grapes promise a crop of 65,000 tons compared with 70,000 tons last year and an average of 72,000 tons for the past five years. Catawba and Niagara have a fair crop but Concord, New York's most important grape, will give a light crop. California will have a larger crop than last year, making the total United States grape crop 2,154,115 tons compared with 1,777,462 tons harvested in 1923.

—from Lieutenant Wade's Letter to Alvan Macauley, President Packard Motor Car Co.

* I would never have attempted such a trip in any other car but the Packard Eight, for I know that the Packard is the only car equipped with the chassis lubricator and the motor oil rectifier.

* These devices enabled us to drive the entire 3,965 miles without once changing oil or leaving the driver's seat to lubricate the chassis. To them, and the wonderful Packard Eight motor which never faltered in the 165 hours and 50 minutes continuous driving, I attribute the success of the run.

* We have suffered no after effects from strain. This is a real tribute to the ease with which the car was handled and its riding qualities. ****

The car came through with a perfect score. We had no mechanical difficulties of any kind. I believe we could have turned right around and driven back to Los Angeles without stopping either car or motor.

Leigh Wade

World Flier Picks Packard Eight

Drives across Continent Without Car or Motor Once Stopping

LEUTENANT LEIGH WADE, one of the famous round-the-world fliers of the United States Army Air Service, driving his own standard, new series Packard Eight under A. A. A. sanction, recently completed the first really continuous transcontinental drive ever made.

Wade left Los Angeles at 12:00 noon Thursday and arrived in New York at 12:50 p.m. one week later. He was accompanied and relieved at the wheel by Linton Wells, the newspaper correspondent who stowed away in Wade's plane from India to Persia.

Official A. A. A. observers were in the car every foot of the way from coast to coast and have certified that in the 165 hours and 50 minutes elapsed time these two tireless men drove 3,965 miles without once allowing either the motor or the car to come to a stop.

THIS unique feat was undertaken by the daring pilot of the "Boston" as a "vacation pastime" while on leave from the army.

Wade and Wells wanted to attempt again something which had never before been done. Cross-country speed runs were an old story. But a non-stop wheel and motor run—driving a car from ocean to ocean within legal speed limits, without a second's halt for any purpose whatever—here was something new indeed!

Chooses Packard Eight

Two of Wade's companions on the historic world flight, Lieutenants Smith and Arnold, own Packard Eights. Their advice agreed with his judgment and he bought a Packard Eight in which to attempt his record run.

His choice was a sound one. The Packard Eight never once in seven days and nights ceased its forward motion. Gas, oil, food and water were taken on from moving vehicles.

The mileage covered was eight times as great as any ordinary car should be driven without change of motor oil. It was equal to half the average man's yearly mileage without a stop.

During this nearly 4,000 mile drive but 20 quarts of oil were consumed—an average of 800 miles to the gallon. Yet thanks to the oil rectifier an analysis of the crank case oil upon arrival in New York showed 99% pure lubricant. Gas consumption averaged 13 miles to the gallon.

The chassis was thoroughly lubricated every hundred miles—without stopping the car—by the mere pull of a plunger on the dash.

Value of Improvements Confirmed

Lieutenant Wade's spectacular trip merely served to impress what the owners of 15,000 new series Packard cars have learned in the past seven months. For these owners have found in their cars the most important new improvements since the electric self-starter—the chassis lubricator and the motor oil rectifier.

To the average owner these improvements mean longer life of parts, lower costs for oil, quietness of operation and service uninterrupted by frequent giving up of the car for chassis lubrication.

For the third time within a year the remarkable reliability of Packard motors has been forcibly called to public attention: First, the successful 8,100 mile flight of the Navy dirigible Shenandoah. Second, the record-breaking 28½ hour continuous flight of the Navy sea-plane PN-9. And now, Lieutenant Wade's transcontinental non-stop run in the Packard Eight.

Budget Assault Officially Begun

Budget Director Lord Striving To Keep Expenses To Three Billion—Sum Passed and Appropriation Awaited With Great Interest.

By Telegram to The Freeman. Washington, Sept. 14.—The government's "family fight" to determine the amount of money to be spent in the year ending June 30, 1927, was officially started today when the bureau of the budget opened appropriations hearings.

Budget Director H. M. Lord, with a strangle hold on the treasury's purse strings, is striving to keep official expenses as close to $3,000,000,000 as humanly possible.

With estimated receipts of about $3,200,000,000, depending upon the slant taken at revenues in the coming Congress, an accomplishment of a three billion dollar expenditure year will yield the government a neat surplus and pave the way for further tax cutting. The battle between the budget bureau and the war and navy departments—waged every year since the armistice—was signed—is the most bitterly contested of the set-toes in the annual assault on the treasury by government departments.

Lord has announced he wants to keep the combined army and navy appropriation under $600,000,000, divided equally between the two departments. The military arms of the government contend that if such an economy policy is followed out the national defense will be inadequate for the nation's protection and that many important functions of both departments must be abandoned.

For the year ending last July the war department spent about $348,000,000 and the navy cost $332,249,000. In giving Congress his views on national defense for the 1926 budget, President Coolidge asked that the appropriation be limited to $549,000,000.

Among the important budget

Fireworks at Kingston Point

The rain storm of Saturday evening cut short the fireworks display of St. Mary's Society of Kingston Point and it was decided to set on the balance of the fireworks this evening near the hall on North street. The time is set for 10:30 o'clock this evening. An open air dance will also be held tonight at the hall and music will be furnished by Sweeney's Band. The committee in charge promise that the fireworks display will be well worth seeing.

PEACH SHORTCAKE SUPPER AT PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

The members of the fancy booth of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Roundout Presbyterian Church will serve a peach shortcake supper in the chapel of the church on Wednesday from 5:30 to 7:30. Everyone who attended last year's supper and sampled the delicious shortcake knows what treat is in store. By request the menu will be the same that was so enthusiastically received last year. Menu: Chicken patties, escalloped potatoes, white bread, raisin bread, brown bread, tomato and lettuce salad, Thousand Island dressing, peach shortcake with whipped cream, hot coffee, iced tea.

Items this year will be a move on the part of the treasury to create a permanent rum patrol to guard the coast line against liquor smugglers. Secretary of the Treasury Mellon has already made a personal inspection of Rum Row and had sanctioned the move as the only means of checking smuggling promptly. The prohibition appropriation likewise is awaited with considerable interest. For the 1926 year it was about $10,000,000.

The budget will attempt to prevent any material extension of the government's activities in order that subsequent cutting of costs may be reflected in tax reductions.

Couple Drowned In East River

By Telegram to The Freeman. New York, Sept. 14.—An empty rowboat washed ashore today was the only clue to an unknown man and woman drowned in the East River at the foot of St. Lawrence avenue, the Bronx, when a heavy wind and rain storm overturned their boat. Police continued to search unsuccessfully for their bodies.

As the boat overturned 50 feet from shore, the man and woman, shrieked for help as they struggled in the choppy waters. They sank before rescuers could reach them.

K. OF C. TRACK MEET AT YANKEE STADIUM

By Telegram to The Freeman. New York, Sept. 14.—Athletes from four nations, American, Finland, Holland and British Guiana, will compete tonight in the Knights of Columbus outdoor track and field games, under the blazing arc lights at the Yankee Stadium. The games will be a series of features, starting with the national fifteen mile championship, bringing together Albin Steenroos, Finland, the Olympic Marathon champion, and the best of the American field.

Another will bracket Adrian Paulsen of Holland, with Cecil Cooke, national champion, Joe Tierney, Ray Robertson and others in a special 440 yard race, while a third feature will see Allan Heffrich, conqueror of Nurnal at this distance, in a half mile race with Philip Edwards, Queen's College, British Guiana; George Masters, John Holden and Willie Sullivan.

De Hart Hubbard, Jacob Scholz, Leony and Bowman also will meet in a series of spring races.

Cripple Girl Is Brutally Slain

Catherine Gore, Pretty Little Cripple Girl, Is Victim of "Boy Friend" Brutally—Crippled Orphan Fought Desperately For Her Honor.

By Telegram to The Freeman. New York, Sept. 14.—Catherine Gore, pretty little cripple girl, lies murdered today following her first and last romance. Detectives were searching today for the youth last seen with the 14 year old girl before she was attacked and brutally slain on the rear porch of her East Side home.

Dr. Benjamin Schwartz, chief medical examiner, who performed an autopsy, will make a chemical analysis today to determine if the girl was administered "knockout" drops.

Catherine in her holiday best went for a walk with her girl friend, Rose Apuzzo. Catherine hobbled along with difficulty, having stepped out of a wheel chair but a month ago after suffering a stroke of paralysis. At Columbus Circle ringed with bright lights, the two girls met two dapper youths who took them for a taxi ride. Later Catherine and her "boy friend" sat on the steps of her home, where she lived with her sister, Mrs. John Sheehy. The crippled girl was an orphan.

That was the last anybody saw Catherine alive. Her body was found huddled on the back porch of the house Sunday morning. Catherine's Sunday black taffeta dress was torn in many places. One of her shoes was found in the front vestibule. The 85 pound cripple had fought desperately for her honor, police said.

"The man who killed her probably struck her on the head," said Dr. Schwartz. "He probably knocked her unconscious after first beating her. There are two deep scratches on the neck. It was a deliberate and brutal crime. The girl apparently had a weak heart. He attacked her as she lay unconscious."

PRINCE AHMED IN HIDING AROUND PARIS

By Telegram to The Freeman. Paris, Sept. 14.—Prince Ahmed Seif El Din, brother of King Fuad of Egypt, who made his escape from England where he has been confined in an asylum for a quarter of a century, is now playing hide and seek with a number of Scotland Yard detectives in and around Paris, according to the French newspapers.

Prince Ahmed, the French newspapers state, has been living in an obscure hotel on the outskirts of Paris since his sudden and mysterious departure from a recreation pier in Hastings, England. Scotland Yard has sent eight of its best detectives to France to attempt to kidnap the Prince, according to the French press, but the prince has eluded them.

Once, the newspapers state, the detectives had the prince virtually surrounded, but dressed as a woman and wearing a heavy veil he calmly walked through their cordon. On another occasion the prince danced all of one evening in a Montmartre cafe without disguise, while the detectives searched for him in another quarter of the city.

The French newspapers are giving Prince Ahmed considerable sympathy, demanding that he be left alone. They quote the prince as stating that his confinement in England has been for political purposes.

MAY DRAFT SECURITY PACT IN NOVEMBER

By Telegram to The Freeman. London, Sept. 14.—Any decisions Great Britain may make relative to the proposed security pact will be contingent upon approval by the British dominions, the foreign office announced today.

The French invitation to Herr Stresemann to meet with the Allied foreign ministers in Switzerland will be handed to the German government tomorrow by the French ambassador in Berlin.

The British are confident that the conference will be held within the next four weeks, and are hopeful that a final conference to draft the security pact may be held by November.

REPAID THIS MAN A DOZEN TIMES

"I have been repaid a dozen times over in the last few days for every dollar I spent for Tonic, and the doctor still tells me to keep on taking it. It is the best thing I have ever taken."—In the morning statement of Joseph Williams.

"Tonic has driven pain from my body that has troubled me for ten years. It does wonders, which almost killed me at times. I had rheumatic pain and swelling in my hands and feet, my circulation was poor, I was always cold, nervous, and my stomach didn't feel right. I had regular headaches and I was a discouraged man."

"I have never seen the equal of Tonic in my life. It has done more for me than any other medicine I have ever taken. It has improved my sleep, my appetite, my energy, and my general health. I am now a different man. Tonic is worth ten times what it costs and is well worth trying."

What Tonic has done for others, it can do for you.

Tonic is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitutes. Over 40 million bottles sold.

Prohibition Now Receiving Test

The Ultimate Outcome No One Can Say With Positiveness Reported by Federal Council of Churches—Unit of Treasury Department Criticized.

By Telegram to The Freeman. Washington, Sept. 14.—The Federal Council of Churches today began the publication of a thirty thousand word report on the "social consequences of prohibition in the United States," including the moral and political aspects of the problem as well as its economic and industrial phases.

The first section of the report declared that the country is now witnessing the "economic test" of prohibition and that the ultimate outcome of the test will be determined by the results of the report. "No cocksure criticism," said the report, "is warranted, nor is premature opinion or defeatism justified by the facts. Much more is to be learned from the development of the report in the past future."

The Rev. Elmer Johnson, who heads the research committee, has prepared the report, said the study is an independent, non-partisan, and non-sectarian study of the social consequences of prohibition. It is a study of the "social consequences of prohibition" and is not a study of the "moral consequences of prohibition."

The report is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitutes. Over 40 million bottles sold.

careless and unwarranted inferences which lead social scientists, economists, actuaries and business statisticians to regard with distrust, if not with contempt, reports that are given out with a view to fostering opinion favorable to prohibition. Much of the publicity given out by the prohibition unit of the treasury department has been of this unfortunate kind. On the other hand, much unjust and misleading propaganda has been put out for the purpose of discrediting prohibition.

Drowned Near Ulster Park

Jersey City Carpenter Sailed With Cramps and Drowned in Hudson River Four Hours After Arriving at Ulster Park for Visit.

Oskari Wapunen of Jersey City, 32 years old, was drowned in the Hudson river near the Schleide bridge near Ulster Park Saturday evening about 11 o'clock. Mr. Wapunen, a native of Finland, who had been in this country about 17 years, was a carpenter by trade. Saturday he came to Ulster Park to visit the Johnson family, arriving about four hours before he was drowned. The day was extremely warm and about 11 o'clock that evening he went for a swim. He had been in the water but a few minutes when he was observed to be struggling. A search was made for the body but it was not until about 11:30 o'clock that morning that it was recovered. Dr. G. W. Rogers of Ulster Park was called and he pronounced Wapunen's death as drowning. The body was brought to this city and was buried in Jersey City.

Those Winning Smiles

which mean so much... commercially, socially, are gained this new way with gleaming, white teeth

Don't believe your teeth are "naturally" dull. Just accept this 10-day test. See how dazzling white teeth and healthy gums come when film coats go.

There is a simple test that proves the truth of the recent dental statement that dull, "off-color" teeth can be lightened amazingly, given dazzling whiteness.

In a few days you can work a great change in the color of your teeth. Can give them clear and charming gleam.

There is a new way in tooth and gum care. A way that removes the dingy film that clouds your teeth. A film that absorbs discolorations and keeps teeth dingy looking.

Just run your tongue across your teeth. And you will feel that film. It is the great enemy of pretty teeth and healthy gums.

If it clings to the teeth, gets into crevices and stays. It forms a breeding place for germs. It lays your gums open to bacterial attack. Your teeth open to decay. Those germs, with tartar, are the chief causes of pyorrhea.

Old-time methods failed in successfully fighting film. So ugly teeth were common. You must remove it. Ordinary brushing won't do it satisfactorily. Under it are the clear, whiter teeth you envy in others.

Now modern science has perfected an effective film combatant, called Pepsodent. It acts to curdle film, then removes it. It firms and protects gums; beautifies teeth quickly and correctly.

Mail coupon for full 10-day tube to try. Or purchase large tube at any drug store. Note the amazing difference in your teeth... in your whole appearance.

Luedtkes Fifty Years Married

Golden Wedding Anniversary Observed Friday Evening at Their Home on First Avenue—They Were Married in Kingston in 1875. Fifty years ago on September 11, 1875, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Luedtke, Sr., of No. 53 First Avenue were united in marriage in Kingston, and on Friday evening, September 11, 1925, about forty of their relatives gathered at their home to help them celebrate their golden wedding anniversary.

During the day the happy couple had received a post card shower from their host of friends in Kingston and vicinity, while large quantities of flowers were sent to the house. Telegrams of congratulation were also received from many friends who were unable to pay their respects in person.

The house had been artistically decorated for the occasion with cut flowers and golden rods, and dinner was served in the large dining room to those present. During the evening Mr. and Mrs. Luedtke were presented with a purse containing a substantial sum in gold coin.

The dining room table was decorated for the occasion and in the center set two large wedding cakes presented by close friends and relatives.

As the guests assembled about the table a flash light of the scene was taken by Pennington.

From the employees of the Standard Oil Company of Long Island City a large bouquet of flowers was received as well as a large basket of flowers from the four daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Luedtke.

Each guest as a memento of the occasion was presented with a hand-somely engraved booklet which had been gotten out by members of the family and contained a photograph of the happy couple taken at the time they were married half a century ago and also a photograph of them as they are today.

The Luedtkes have been residents of Kingston for many years and during those years they have made a host of friends. In spite of their advanced age both are in fairly good health. For many years Mr. Luedtke was a faithful employee of the city but of late years had led a retired life.

At a late hour the celebration was brought to a happy close with the best of wishes extended Mr. and Mrs. Luedtke on the occasion of their golden wedding anniversary.

New York State Feed Crop Good

But Potatoes Have Deteriorated and State Forecast Shows Shortage—Beans in Bad Condition—United States Crop Smaller Since 1919.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Albany, Sept. 14.—Late summer conditions have been favorable for a normal development of general field crops except potatoes and beans, and present prospects are for a sufficient supply of coarse feed crops to carry livestock through the winter in good shape except possibly in those parts of the state near Lake Erie and the lower Hudson Valley where dry weather cut the hay crop severely, according to the combined state and Federal crop report for September issued from the New York State Department of Farm and Markets.

Potatoes have deteriorated in all upstate sections, due to attacks of leaf-hoppers, tipburn and early and late blight. Although fields which are free from these troubles are in excellent condition, many fields are badly browned or are entirely dead. The September forecast of state production is 33,353,000 bushels against 46,620,000 bushels last year and a five-year average of 39,673,000 bushels. Maine, Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota and North Dakota likewise show large declines from last year. The total United States crop is now forecast at 344,391,000 bushels a decrease of 24 per cent from last year. The total crop, while still subject to such changes as may take place to the end of the season, is expected to be the smallest since 1919.

Field beans are likewise in bad condition in New York and while the acreage is 11 per cent greater than last year, the present forecast of 1,924,000 bushels is only slightly more than 1,820,000 bushels harvested last year, with some possibility of further declines. Conditions in other bean states have continued to improve and Michigan expects 7,288,000 bushels compared with 5,848,000 bushels last year. Other western states also show increases over last year and the United States crop is forecast at 17,569,000 bushels compared with 13,619,000 bushels last year and the five-year average of 12,231,000 bushels.

Corn has been developing rapidly and while much will not mature, grain and silage will be more abundant this year than last. The United States crop is better than last year and of nearly average size. Oats are turning out substantially better than earlier expectations, both in New York and the United States, and barley is also generally good. With 38,162,000 bushels of oats and 7,674,000 bushels of barley, New York growers will have about 134,000 tons more of these grain feeds than last year, in addition to the increased corn, though there will probably be 3,000 or 10,000 tons less of buckwheat.

With excellent second growth of clover and third growth of alfalfa, the total hay crop of the state will be somewhat larger than earlier forecasts. The crop in the central-western states is short, however, as well as in some of the southern states.

The pasture condition of 54 on September 1st is about average in this state though for the north-central dairy states and the United States as a whole conditions are far below average. Throughout the dairy sections of New York, the second growth on meadows is being utilized to supplement the feed in permanent pastures.

Tilden Is Not The Favorite

To Retain His Championship in Lawn Tennis Singles at Forest Hills—Tilden Is Willing To Step Out Say Tennis-Wise.
(By Davis J. Walsh.)

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, Sept. 14.—Disquieting rumors, alleging that the long reign of William, the Conqueror, might come to abrupt end, were in the air today as the field of sixty-four made ready to enter the first round of the National Championship in lawn tennis singles at Forest Hills.

For the first time since 1922, William, the Great Tilden was not the universal favorite to retain his championship and plenty of tennis-wise sharps were ready to back the idea, provided the odds were right.

Tilden is stale. Tilden is over-taxed.

This was the good word that went out in advance of the tourney. And it was more or less substantiated by fact.

Tilden was carried to five tedious sets by Jean Borotra on the first day of play. On the final day, Rene La Coste was within a single point of beating him and might have succeeded but for a rather dubious decision by one of the line-men. In short, Tilden was not Tilden.

What will he be this week? Has he or will he play his way back into form?

On these questions rest much that is momentous. If Tilden can win again it will mean six consecutive victories in the National Singles and a new record, Bill Larned being joint holder with Tilden on the present mark.

If he is defeated, it probably will mean the definite and permanent passing of William T. Tilden from competitive lawn tennis. Tilden, they say, is ready to step out from under, wants to do so and is only awaiting a favorable moment.

This point, however, is in Tilden's favor. He can rise to the emergency as no previous champion ever did when defeat impends. Perhaps this week, faced with the greatest moment of his career, he will do so again. That moment probably will come in a matter of four or five days.

If all goes as it should, Tilden will play Richards in the semi-finals and Johnston in the finals. Both are flying danger signals. Johnston having come back splendidly after everyone had agreed that he was passed.

Little or nothing is expected to be learned about the true Tilden today. He will meet Carl Fischer, former inter-collegiate champion, in one of the so-called early matches. In the other, Jim Anderson, of Australia, will meet Arnold W. Jones, Yale captain. Neither of the favorites should be pressed.

Homecoming Proved Fatal
Thomas O'Rourke of Liverpool, England, at the age of sixty-nine, decided to revisit his boyhood home in Belfast, Ireland. As he reached the beautiful Mourne mountains near Killybeg he stopped at the foot of the hill leading upward to his old home and after a few seconds dropped dead. Physicians say his death was caused by the emotional excitement and joy which were too much for his physical condition at his age.Miss Rogers Gained
15 Pounds in Six Weeks

Skinny Men and Women Gain 5 Pounds in 30 Days or Money Back.

My Dear Friends:
After my attack of Flu I was thin, run-down and weak. I had a sallow complexion, my cheeks were sunken and I was continually troubled with gas on my stomach. I felt stuffy and had lost my appetite. I had read about McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets and decided to give them a trial. At once, I began to pick up an appetite, my cheeks filled out and my complexion became healthy looking and I gained 15 pounds in six weeks and am very thankful for what McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets did for me.

Miss Alberta Rogers, 244 W. Cerro Gorda St., Decatur, Ill.

To take on weight, grow strong and vigorous, to fill out the hollow cheeks and neck, try McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets for 30 days. 60 Tablets—60 cents—at all five drugists everywhere. If they don't give you wonderful help in 30 days, get your money back—you be the judge. But be sure and ask for McCoy's, the original and genuine.

All-Stars Beat Margaretville

Saturday the Kingston All Stars took a fall out of the Margaretville Club by a 9-2 score. Corbin the mountain club's college twirler was slammed for eleven safe wallopes. He was also generous with free passes, giving six. The locals made use of both the base hits and bases on balls given by Corbin.

Cragan was in good form holding the mountain club to five hits and three bases on balls. Two of the five hits and two of the free bases on balls counted in scoring.

The locals scored first in the opening frame when Lynch and Hoffman both walked. Lynch scored on Smedes sacrifice fly.

Three hits in the third gave the locals one more tally.

In the Margaretville's third they sent two runs across the rubber on two hits and two walks. After this inning none of the mountain players reached second base.

An error, one sacrifice bunt and a sacrifice fly gave the locals one more in the fourth.

The fifth inning Corbin got a little wild and issued four bases on balls while one of his teammates made a misplay and the locals pushed two more across.

Three hits in the eighth and one walk one hit and a sacrifice in the last two frames gave the All Stars two more tallies.

This win evened up the series as it now stands two and two. The rubber game will not be played this season as it was the mountain club's closing game.

Icy Touch of Death Not Always Terrible

There are few men in this world to whom death holds no terror, who can meet it fearlessly and unflinchingly when not hypnotized by the excitement that goes with battle, a clergyman is reported to have said when speaking of the death of Mr. Bryan and the sentiments the Great Commoner is said to have held on the subject. Yet history abounds with instances of men, who seemed not the least perturbed about the imminence of the Grim Reaper. Take among the kings alone: Frederick I had his coffin carried in a few hours before he died and had a grenadier lie down in it to see if it was comfortable and then suggested that some pillows be placed at the head. Louis XIII, of France, racked by pain, suddenly straightened up and gave orders that a section of the St. Denis road be paved at once. "I don't want my body to be jostled like a bale of hay in those runs on the funeral procession," he said. Frederick the Great ordered all the clocks in the old palace wound, so that there would be no "foolish and superstitious people" say that they had stopped when the king died. Napoleon, when his eyes were already glazing, calmly turned down the page in "Plutarch's Lives" he was reading and smilingly questioned when he should continue the narrative. William of Orange, mortally wounded and certain of death, suddenly dropped his head while a reader recited the Twenty-third Psalm. And Edward VII of England asked that the Whitechapel band of the Salvation Army come and play as usual under his window while he lay dying. And who can count the thousands, unknown and unrecorded, who met death without the slightest tremor of fear—Pierre Van Paasman, in Atlanta Constitution.

Win Blue Ribbons At Flower Shop

Prizes Awarded to Five Under Garden Club Estimate at Poughkeepsie Flower Show—Three Blue Ribbons Come to Kingston—Show Was Gorgeous Spectacle.

Five of the nine members of the Ulster Garden Club who entered exhibits won prizes at the annual Flower Show held at the New York state armory at Poughkeepsie on Friday and Saturday under the auspices of the Garden and Horticultural Societies of Dutchess and Orange counties.

Mrs. George DeForest Smith of Pearl street was awarded a first prize, blue ribbon, for the finest arrangement of cut flowers.

Mrs. George Washburn of West Chestnut street was awarded first prize, blue ribbon, for the best arranged vase of asters.

Mrs. John D. Schoonmaker of West Chestnut street was awarded second prize in the exhibits of raspberries.

Mrs. Theodore Eugene Smith of West Camp was awarded second prize for an exhibit of red apples, and another second prize for an exhibit of green apples.

Of all the interesting exhibits at the Flower Show, none drew more attention than a table, where Mrs. Oakleigh Thorne of Millbrook, Dutchess county, and other hostesses had provided a sensation in table decorations. There were magnificent centerpiece which were the cynosure of all eyes, but the principal feature was artificial-looking fruit which in reality was real fruit which had been varnished. The garniture was of beet leaves and kale.

The armory was a riot of color, not only from the mammoth flower blooms that were on every hand, but with the red, yellow and green apples, the dull magnolia of eggplant and the scarlet of tomatoes. All the delicacies were there as well as the staples, and there were a number of unusual exhibits including orchids, a miniature California red wood, a box of lichen and a Mexican air plant.

British Patents in 1924

Applications for patents in Great Britain totaled more than 30,000 last year, according to the New York World, and although the number is 1,000 less than was received in 1923, there was an increase during the later months. Radio developments were the most numerous subjects of the patents, more than 300 being granted, an increase of 200 over the year before. Many applications from inventors in this field were not pressed, the originators apparently realizing that their ideas were in many cases commercially useless or had become out of date while the matter was pending because of the rapid progress in this science. Many patents were for household improvements and the inventions were made by women.

Famous Irishman

Oliver St. John Gogarty, noted in his native Dublin as a wit and satirist, has been at various times a politician, a physician and a writer. As a senator of the Irish Free State, he was captured by insurgent forces and was forced to swim the icy Liffey to save his life. Escaping to London, he became a physician, and upon his return to Ireland produced a volume of verse that won the poetry prize at the Irish games. Critics of Gaelic verse place him with Yeats and Joyce.
